BULLDOZING IN ILLINOIS.

The Colonel Duly of a "Black Republican" in Gallatin County Fights and Runs.

SHAWNEETOWN, Ill., March 26.—[Special.]—United States Marshal Tincher, of the Southern District of Illinois, has received the following letter relative to a late mob of democrats in Gallatin County, this State:

"SHAWNEETOWN, Ill., March 26, 1904.—To the United States Marshal, Springfield, Ill.—Dear Sir: The 25th of this month I hired a couple of negroes and put them to work on my farm. A few days after a young man named Reuben Castle came to them to the field and told them he came immediately at their house he quitted that night in the town. They reported this at once and I told them to work on, as there was no danger. He also told them that I was a black Republican and ought to be mobbed for hiring them. They came at dinnertime that I was obliged to quit my work and walk with them. An independent meeting was now called to drive them from the neighborhood. The people were much excited. One Joseph Hughes offered $25, or $50 if necessary, to pay the fine of any one who would mob them, as he knew that Colonel Duncan and William Barnett, Gallatin, the 5th, he will and myself left town, leaving a couple of days and three colored men and their families were driven out of the county. Colonel Duncan, acting as spokesman, counted them, and told them that they had been warned once and had been allowed to stay here, but that they had disregarded that warning and must leave. They left, leaving a number of their household goods and stock behind. They had been offered $40 per month and board for the year, but refused to work for such wages. They have since been employed at $20 per month and board. Now, I was a Republican and would not vote and have done so. I am a democrat and have always been. Two of the men left with the engineer were Democrats. I mentioned this to Castle, and he said that he knew it, but that it was a political matter. I was a Democrat myself

GARFIELD—CONKLING.

Responsibility for the Bolt Before the Late Presidency and for Re-Election.

Statements of the Hon. James B. Belford, Member of Congress from Colorado.

How Garfield Was Brought to Believe There Was a Secret Alliance Among the Stalwarts.

[Special to the New York Times (Dem. Org.)]

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 30.—[Special.]—The responsibility for the famous interview between President Garfield and Senator Conkling two days after the former's inaugural question, a point that has been considered more than anything else connected with the Conkling episode, because upon the answer to that question depended the future of the Senator from New York, and the Hon. James G. Blaine, the present Secretary of State, has been considered by many to be the person who brought about the meeting between the President and Senator Conkling, and who was responsible for the subsequent course of the President. Mr. Blaine has always denied that he had anything to do with bringing about the meeting, and has declared that he was not present at the interview, and did not know what was said by either of the participants. The statements of Mr. James B. Belford, the member of Congress from Colorado, who was a warm personal friend of Mr. Garfield, and who was in Washington at the time of the Conkling episode, and was intimately acquainted with all the facts connected with it, will be read with interest. Mr. Belford is a lawyer of high standing in his profession, and his statements are entitled to the fullest credence. He said:

"There will be several conferences," said Mr. Belford, "if I remember the circumstances correctly, between the President-elect and Senator Conkling before the inauguration. The most important of these occurred on the morning of the inauguration. I had been at the Arlington Hotel, where Mr. Garfield had been staying, and had gone with him in a carriage to the Capitol. On the way down Pennsylvania avenue Mr. Garfield said to me: 'I am in a peculiar position. I have been elected President of the United States, and I have not the slightest personal feeling in the matter. I have been nominated by the Republican party, and I am under the most solemn pledges to carry out the principles of the party. I have been elected by the votes of the Republican party, and I am under the most solemn pledges to carry out the principles of the party. I have been elected by the votes of the Republican party, and I am under the most solemn pledges to carry out the principles of the party. I have been elected by the votes of the Republican party, and I am under the most solemn pledges to carry out the principles of the party.'

"Mr. Garfield then said that he had been informed that there was a secret alliance between Mr. Conkling and Mr. Blaine, by which the latter was to control the patronage of the New York Custom-House, and that Mr. Conkling was to control the patronage of the Treasury Department. Mr. Garfield said that he had been informed that this alliance was to be carried out in the event of his election, and that he had been informed that this alliance was to be carried out in the event of his election, and that he had been informed that this alliance was to be carried out in the event of his election, and

MONDAY, MARCH 31, 1884.

The funeral of Prince Leopold, Duke of Albany, will take place next Friday.

All the Penn militia of Ohio, seven regiments of infantry and five batteries of artillery, have been ordered to Cincinnati by Gov. Hoadly.

It is believed in Baltimore that Archbishop Gibbons, of that city, will be raised to the Cardinalate at the consistory now being held at Rome.

Dr. Corcoran, the excommunicated Roman Catholic Bishop of Hamilton, Ont., arrived in New York from Ireland yesterday on his way to his new diocese.

The Hon. Henry Ward Beecher's sermon yesterday dealt with the duty of men towards their neighbors, the obligation on the strong to help the weak, and of the rich to help the poor and lowly.

Governor John Warrington, to get a seat, thinks, if the future of the First Ward shall also be with cares. If all who are opposed to the Democratic candidate should unite on "Long John" he would be started up a tremendous majority.

W. D. Hendricks, a former resident of Chicago, was instantly wounded by a pistol-ball fired by a Deputy Sheriff at Bedford, Ind., Saturday night. The ball was intended for another person with whom the Deputy was having a quarrel.

Some leading colored men of the South are much opposed to that provision of Blaine's Education bill which proposes to give State governments control of the distribution of the funds. They say that the result would be discrimination against the colored people.

It is noted that since Gen. Sir Evelyn Wood left Boulder Legge and entered into that he would not be a Presidential candidate this year. The Legislator are entertained by the unofficial journal of the widow of Blaine delegate from some of the Pennsylvania districts.

Tennessee rejoices in Ingersoll's recent lecture in this city was followed by the Rev. J. H. Bowers, of the Second Presbyterian Church, and the Rev. Dr. Lorimer. The latter likened the orator's Billingsian to the Devil's Tramp, and severely criticised the character of Ingersoll's methods.

Congressman Guenther, of Wisconsin, expresses unbounded indignation over the silence of Secretary Frelinghuysen to remonstrate Minister Sargent from Berlin to St. Petersburg. The act, he says, was unworthy of the Government of a great Nation. Sargent-Guenther are particularly enraged.

Directors of the Northern Pacific and others representing the company and the Drexel, Morgan & Co. syndicate who have just returned from a tour of inspection are said to have discovered that track-laying extravagance is positively useless, and that the road is really overstocked with all kinds of machinery.

A very large number of foreigners purchase lands here from private individuals, papers in the local courts during the last week. It is believed that many here from Continental countries, and that the late Democratic victories, are really preparing for the Presidential contest.

Secretary Chandler and Mr. Morrison have had protracted consultations during the last few days as to the best way to proceed in the matter of the Tariff bill. They now think they cannot attain sufficient votes to insure its consideration. The groundwork, however, if the bill shall be discussed, will appear to differ but little from the existing statute.

Mr. Blaine thinks, a prominent Democrat of the West Point, has come out boldly against the candidacy of William Pinkney, the candidate of his party for Governor in the South Dakota. He says he cannot vote for a candidate who openly boasts that he paid $1,000 for nomination. In no other State would you let $1,000 a year. The Democratic Governor has "residence". He also expresses his disgust at the nomination of the head of the "machine" for Alderman in the First Ward, against the will of the people. Mr. Blaine pledges himself to do all in his power to help beat Fitzgerald.

The construction of Mexico for Alderman of the First Ward is said to have given great offense to Hancock, and there are rumors of very unpleasant feelings between "General" and Mike McDonald, which may lead to a split on the gambling hells. All these things will be taken with the usual allowance.

It is rumored that Edward Cromwell Bowmer is to be made Minister to Berlin, and that he will be succeeded in the Attorney-General's office by Dan-Senator John Stewart, of Pennsylvania, who left the anti-Cameron ranks a few years ago. The appointment of Stewart, it is thought, would make him true to the Cameron core again.

Mr. E. T. Greene, a respectable farmer residing near New Haven, Oakville County, in this State, has written to the United States Marshal for Northern Illinois that two evil-eyed men in his neighborhood have threatened to kill him by the Democratic influence of the county, and that he has been subjected to much annoyance and abuse for having cited such outlaws.

A heavy gale prevailed in the Middle Atlantic States yesterday. In Brooklyn a four-story building was blown down, a church edifice was unroofed on the Hudson, and the Capitol, and one of the cars were drowned; at Philadelphia several small vessels were driven ashore, and a schooner was sunk in a collision. The Capitol and two of the cars perished.

Post Office, in his account of yesterday, referred to the Continent club as the successful of the rulership of the country brought rights of the people, the subversion of the principles of local government by tobacco barons, corrupt juries, and thieves in public office. Deplorable as outrages, he said, they will be so long as official morality does duty in democratic log to the last of the people.

Tennessee will be stubborn-day, and no man interested in an honest administration of city and town affairs should forget it. All who wish to see property equitably assessed and the taxes honestly collected and economically, and who have any desire to be governed by a Council that is not itself governed by corruption and corrupt cliques, should go to the polls and do their duty as citizens. Tax-Tammany has already taught the men who can be trusted.

Advocates Cameron stand yesterday that the Attorney Roman Catholic priest will join in a letter of thanks to President Arthur for his efforts to prevent the confiscation of the American College at Rome by the Italian Ministry. The archbishop has already called the Bishop to Mission meet. One of Dr. Gibbons' colleagues is reported to have said that the Vatican and Dr. Grant's will soon be reconciled. In this event the Pope would, it is believed, have duly and take up his residence in some part of America. The Queen of Italy is said to be very much troubled at the anti-Papal acts of her husband's Government, and the frequency of late visited the Pope to confide with him

THE SITUATION IN THE STATE.

With no contest over the Governorship, with Hon. Gen. Hamilton, his adherents, with small exception, of one over the nominations for other State offices, having been for Congress and a county ticket, and with the delegates to Illinois previously selected from eleven of the seven Congressional districts in Illinois, the Republican State Convention at Peoria April 13—two weeks from Wednesday next—will be quite as harmonious an affair as any political meeting ever held in this State. Ex-Governor Beveridge is the big man and it is his task to bring out a respectable vote. If any one has the disposition to do so, Gen. Hamilton, Gen. Oglesby and Senator Palmer are doing even more than is necessary for the convention to be a success. Gen. Hamilton and the other three men named are the ones to have an eye to in the direction of this, their last political step in Illinois' contributing will of course of necessity cover the Congressional district, and in the several districts Senator Hall (Allen) and Senator Hamilton (Cook) are the leaders, and in the Seventh district Gen. Oglesby is also a factor. THE CITY CLERK CONTEST.

The complexities of the position occasioned by the Republicans and Democrats on the county boards should be of itself enough to embitter the battle. The tickets are as follows:

[Tickets omitted]

Judge to succeed Shepherd on the North Town ticket is not as strong as it might have been, and it is not likely the Republicans will again have so good a chance in Ten Broeck's town to defeat Gregg as will be offered at the coming election. Republican Democratic candidates have disappointed the hopes sometimes, and at the best it is a case of hard labor for Goodrich, it is asserted that no proper efforts on the part of the Republicans everywhere on the Democratic ticket are made.

Now that the Fire Department affairs appear to be out of politics, and the matter has been settled by the Board of Fire and Police Commissioners, the Democratic wire-pullers have begun to look for the spoils of victory, and are getting busy all around. The Democratic county committee has been engaged during the week in preparing the list of appointments which will be made in the event of success at the polls, and the Democratic ward committees have been busy in the same direction. The Democratic county committee has appointed a committee of five to confer with the Democratic ward committees, and to-day the committee will meet at the Palmer House to receive the lists of appointments which the ward committees have prepared. The committee of five is composed of Aldermen Cullerton, Kunz, Kipley, Sullivan, and Kelly. The ward committees will be requested to submit their lists of appointments to the committee of five, and the latter will then submit the lists to the county committee. The county committee will then submit the lists to the Democratic members of the Board of Commissioners of Public Charities, and the latter will then submit the lists to Governor Hamilton, who will make the appointments. The Democratic county committee has also appointed a committee of five to confer with the Democratic ward committees in relation to the appointments of election officers
